

WHAT IS A U-VISA

The U-Visa is a nonimmigrant visa provided by the U. S. Citizenship and Immigrations Services (USCIS) to nonimmigrant victims of serious crimes in the U.S. so they may provide information helpful to law enforcement and prosecutors without fear of deportation.

U-Visa nonimmigrant status issuance is limited to a cap of 10,000 victims per year.

After a victim files an application for a U-Visa, the USCIS reviews the petition for eligibility. Once determined eligible, the USCIS approves the victim's petition for U-nonimmigrant status. If the cap on the U-Visas for the year has been met, the victim is placed on a waiting list. Deferred action and work authorization are granted to the victim after placement on the waiting list, if the petitioner is in the U.S.

This brochure is a guide for the criteria needed to obtain law enforcement certification for Form I-918, supplement B, a necessary part of the application process. A partial list of the requirements to apply for a U-Non Immigrant Visa are listed in the "U-Visa Certification Criteria" section of this brochure. A complete list is available from the USCIS website at www.uscis.gov.

MESSAGE FROM THE SHERIFF

The Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department makes more than two million public contacts every year, and we have worked tirelessly to build trust within our communities. This trust is the basis for our "Immigration Inquiries and Notifications Policy," which is intended to reassure immigrant communities that there is no need for fear when contacting the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department when they need us most. In fact, we offer U-Visa applications to all victims of crime who fit the criteria. The number of U-Visa applications has increased, which is an indication of our strong community partnerships and public trust. We are the guardians of our communities and public safety is our top priority.
